Cities-Boroughs To Have Inning In House Probe

Will Ask State Cities And Boroughs To Register All Complaints

HOUSE HEARINGS REVEALING FACTS

Alleged "Leaks" From Commission Declared Only Matter Of Gossip

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Mar. 7.—Boroughs and cities in Pennsylvania are to have their inning next Wednesday and Thursday before the House investigating committee to register any complaints they may have against the public service commission, the utilities and the activities of each. Thus far the committee has heard testimony in the Scranton-Springbrook water cases decided by the commission and now pending in the higher courts.

The House hearings to date have consisted almost entirely of statements of facts and personal opinions of witnesses. Unlike the hearings before the Senate probe committee, there is no cross-examination. The public service commission is represented at the hearings by Special Counsel Arthur H. Hull of this city, but to date none of the witnesses have been turned over to him for cross-examination. Harold Evans, a former public service commissioner, is counsel for the House committee, and associated with him is John Walker of Leechburg, who it is understood, will take a special part in the hearings arranged for the boroughs.

Refuse to Pay

The House hearings to this point have developed one thing, and that is that people in a given community can bind themselves together and hold a utility at arm's length if they so desire. Consistent refusal of patrons of the Scranton-Springbrook Company to pay increased rates was more or less of a revelation to members of the committee.

The action drew a question from

Says President Hoover Will Be Re-Nominated On Bone-Dry Platform

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 7.—Herbert Hoover will carry the Republican banner in 1932 on a bone-dry platform.

There will be no third party from a Republican split up.

These bold assertions on record today were made by U. S. Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr. Insurgent Republican from Wisconsin, in an address before the Philadelphia forum last night.

"The renomination of President Hoover is a foregone conclusion," La Follette said. "And all indications are that the Republican party will not alter its stand on prohibition at the national convention."

He asserted there would be no

(International News Service)

HALIFAX, N. S., Mar. 7.—Rescue ships today reached the crippled Furness-Red Cross liner Rosalind, which lost her propeller off Newfoundland at the height of a north Atlantic storm, jeopardizing the lives of 100 persons aboard.

The Furness liner Newfoundland reached the disabled ship shortly after the gale subsided, and waited for the arrival of the Dutch tug Rhode Zee. The latter was sent from here with orders to tow the Rosalind into port. Repairs will be effected here immediately.

The Rosalind was bound from St. Johns, Newfoundland, to New York when she lost her propeller.

Eleven Negro Convicts Trapped In Steel Cages Burned To Death

FIRE OCCURS IN NORTH CAROLINA

(International News Service)

KENANSVILLE, N. C., Mar. 7.—Trapped in steel cages, eleven negro convicts were burned to death early today when fire destroyed a convict camp a few miles from here.

The fire was said to have started in the kitchen of a building at the camp about 2 o'clock this morning.

There were 52 convicts in the camp, and 41 of these were rescued by the two guards at the camp and citizens from Kenansville.

The convicts who perished were burned beyond identification.

It was said that an investigation into the fire would be started at once by county authorities.

The fire had made much headway before it was noticed, it was said.

None of the prisoners who were rescued attempted to escape. They were taken to the county jail.

The camp was located only about a mile outside of Kenansville, and the prisoners were working on the roads.

It was a temporary affair, and the prisoners slept in cages mounted on wheels.

Authorities were at a loss to account for the origin of the blaze. It apparently began in the kitchen, they said.

MAY ABANDON MT. GRETNAS TROOP TRAINING CAMP

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 7.—Possibility of the abandonment of Mt. Gretna as a training camp for the Pennsylvania National Guard and establishment of a new camp at Indian Gap, a wild section bordering Lebanon and Dauphin counties, was being discussed here today after it became known the state military reservation committee will hold a meeting late this month to decide on the camp site.

Selection of new site for a training camp, it is understood, is being considered because the present Mt. Gretna camp is too small for training all units of the state troops. Because of the proximity of houses and the short range, artillery units have not been trained at Mt. Gretna since before the world war.

Firemen Manage To Save Other Buildings Of Mercator Broom Company

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Mar. 7.—Fire, the cause of which is unknown, destroyed completely about ten o'clock last night, one of the warehouses of the Mercator Broom company, located in the east end of the town.

The loss sustained in the destruction of the warehouse is placed at $5,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance. In addition to the warehouse, the company also had a truck valued at $1,000 destroyed. This loss was not covered by insurance.

An adjoining warehouse was damaged to some extent, also the stock of broom corn stored in the same. The firemen did a splendid piece of work in saving this warehouse also many buildings in the vicinity, which were threatened with destruction for a time by the showers of sparks that arose from the burning building.

Venerable Judge Of Supreme Court Refuses To Retire

Despite Aging Years Still Ranking Judiciary In Country

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, dean of the supreme court and the American judiciary, will be 90 years old tomorrow.

The event apparently doesn't make much difference to the venerable justice, but it does to thousands of friends and admirers who are already deluging his home with messages of congratulations.

Working Today.

Justice Holmes was working today—as on most days—and there likely will be little relaxation on his birthday. For when the justice is not busily engaged in poring over the voluminous records of the court he is indulging in his favorite diversions of reading French literature, on works on arts.

Known as a liberal on the court and a progressive in his views on life in spite of the fact that age often begets conservatism, the aged justice has "gone modern" to some extent.

During the past few days he was obliged moving picture and the "still" photographs with poses. He is scheduled to say 90 words, one for each year, on the radio Sunday night, but he balked when a talking picture operator beseeched him for a few words to accompany a "movie" picture.

Will Not Resign.

Born in Boston, March 8, 1841, the son of the Oliver Wendell Holmes, of "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," fame, Justice Holmes has past by 20 years the permissible retirement age of supreme court justices.

A few years ago he is reputed to have said that: "If I resign, I will

Fire Routs Guests At Clairton Inn

(International News Service)

CLAIRTON, Pa., Mar. 7.—Fleeing in night attire, guests escaped flames which broke out in the Clairton Inn here today, causing damage estimated by Fire Chief Fred Batchelor at about $10,000.

Guests in the hotel were aroused by Patrolman William Hughes who discovered the fire while at his duties in the Clairton police station across the street from the hotel.

Chief Batchelor denied that two patrolmen were overcome while fighting the flames as reported in a newspaper.

Batchelor aided the patrolmen and guests to escape through a rear fire escape when the lobby entrance was blocked by flames and smoke.

New Jersey Youth Sentenced To Life In Georgia Murder

Fred Kosterer, 17, Newark, N. J., Convicted Of Killing German Tourist

(International News Service)

CAIRO, Ga., Mar. 7.—Fred Kosterer, 17-year-old Newark, N. J. hitch-hiker, was convicted today of the murder of Rudolph R. Behrens, a Frankfurt, Germany, tourist.

After deliberating for nearly ten hours, a jury in superior court returned a verdict of guilty in the first degree with a recommendation of mercy.

Kosterer was then sentenced to serve the remainder of his life in prison.

Kosterer's only defense was a statement from the witness stand.

He related that he and his companion, Walter Dodson, 17, of Newark, O., who were hitch-hiking through Georgia, obtained a "lift" from the German tourist.

They took several drinks, he said, and later in the night Behrens threatened to kill him unless he submitted to an improper proposal.

Kosterer said he shot and killed the German only when the latter advanced upon him with an automobile crank.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Mar. 7.—The Republican papers are having a field day, laughing at the Democrats on account of their split over prohibition.

Well, they better get all the laughs in they can, for wait till they meet and see their split, for they got more to split. Both sides are going to do exactly the same thing. They are going to straddle the thing, if they have to split their carcass clear up to their neck to do it.

Neither side has got the nerve to come out in the open, for they are not sure which side the most votes are on.

Gasoline War On Coast Raging As Prices Go Down

Independent And Major Oil Companies Start Slashing Gasoline Prices

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Mar. 7.—The gasoline price-cutting "war" between independent and major oil company dealers raged more or less merrily here today as Standard Oil announced a slash of four cents a gallon, bringing the price down to 15 cents. Other major companies are expected to follow suit. Independent dealers are also contemplating another cut, it was said.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Mar. 7.—Effective today, the Union Oil Company, in one of the most drastic slashes in the history of the oil industry in the state, announced reduced prices for crude petroleum on an average of 50 cents a barrel. Other large purchasing companies are expected to meet the cut.

Meanwhile the Standard Oil Company made another cut of two cents a gallon on the retail price of gasoline, bringing the price down to 12 1/2 cents a gallon, a cut of eight cents a gallon since the "war" began ten days ago. Most of the major companies followed suit. All independent dealers met the new cut.

Husband Is Held For Slaying Of His Wife's Visitor

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Mar. 7.—Okey Clevenger, 35, was held for the grand jury without bail after a coroner's inquest this afternoon on a charge of murder. Clevenger, 50, a neighbor, died this morning from a blow on the head, inflicted, according to witnesses, by Clevenger when the younger man found Gains in his home.

Mrs. Gains told police she saw the struggle between the men from her home across the street. She said the men fought when Clevenger came home and found Gains and Mrs. Clevenger together. The police were told that Clevenger struck the older man with a rifle barrel and the bullet did not strike either of the men.

Gains went to his home and collapsed. Besides his widow, he is survived by three children.

The Sandy Hill Oil and Grease Company entered into a contract with the Hilltown-Beyard company, a large grease user, to supply it with a specified number of tons of black grease at a given price. The grease was to come up to a certain sample in possession of the Hilltown-Beyard company and to an analysis made by a chemist named in the agreement.

But some time after the contract had been running, the Sandy Hill company was taken over by new hands, persons who admittedly had no previous experience with the business. The new owners wrote to the Hilltown-Beyard company apprising it of the new ownership and offering certain quantities of grease at a stated price. But the Hilltown-Beyard company did not desire to continue, and soon after that repudiated the contract. The company argued that it had made the contract with the original concern and that that concern had no right to assign it, whereupon the new owners of the Sandy Hill company filed suit.

Rees Back After Six Thousand Mile Trip Over Nation

Spurgeon Rees, of East Washington street, draftsman for the Pennsylvania Highway department, has returned to New Castle after a three weeks motor trip across the United States. Over 6000 miles was covered during the three weeks.

Mr. Rees, with two young men of Franklin, Pa., first visited the Mardi Gras, at New Orleans, then went to El Paso, Texas, where they spent three days. They motored to San Diego, Long Beach, Los Angeles and Beverly Hills, California, and attended the Orange Show at Bernardino.

Several days were spent at Tia Juana and Juarez, Mexico. They attended the annual rodeo near Tucson, Arizona, on the way home. While in El Paso, Texas, the newsboys were selling papers with the exciting headlines telling of the execution of Glenn Dague and Irene Schroeder.

Mr. Rees will resume his duties with the highway department at Franklin, on Monday morning.

CITIES-BOROUGH TO HAVE INNING IN HOUSE PROBE

Representative Turner, Delaware, who asked whether it was not known that after a new tariff was filed for a period of 30 days the new rates would be allowed under the laws of the state until otherwise decided. Father J. J. Curran of Wilkes-Barre, on the witness stand at the time, declared in effect that it was known that the law is unjust and that the people "would never pay the higher rates," agreeing with Turner that such things lead to revolutions.

"Leads" Revealed
Another thing developed by the initial hearings is that alleged "leaks" of commission decisions before they are actually made public is a matter of "gossip." This was brought out yesterday by C. N. Loveland, former city commissioner of Wilkes-Barre, and the "gossip" will be investigated further in the hope of learning whether some person connected with the commission has been giving out information in advance. Loveland's story on the stand given in chief and not subjected to cross inquiry also developed from him the expression that many people do not believe that justice can be obtained from the public service commission. The thought allowed a question dealing for the first time with Governor Pinchot's proposed plan to substitute the commission with a fair rate board. The question came from Father J. R. Cox, Pittsburgh, one of the governor's observers in active committee which would make inquiries from time to time concerning the commission, combined with "executive watchfulness" would bring desired results.

Mass of Figures
Just what the House and Senate committees will conclude at the end of their sittings is already a matter for discussion here. Some persons who have been following the hearings in both houses are of the opinion that not much is to be accomplished by consuming time on rehearsing details of cases already before the commission and decided by that body. A thorough investigation of activities, favoritism, political associations and affiliations, they point out, would develop testimony in line with Governor Pinchot's charges against the commission. For information purposes, it is said, committee members could procure from the commission transcripts of testimony in any of the public service cases which would be touched upon in the hearings.

Already the Senate has accumulated a mass of figures amazing to members themselves, and the House committee is already beginning to accumulate many more. They are fast becoming confusing, some members have already admitted, and the belief is spreading that detailed testimony in individual cases will not in itself bring the results the committees hope to obtain.

STAR LORE A THEORY IN PHYSICS MUST HAVE MATHEMATICAL SUPPORT

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
The volume of the earth—space it occupies—is known, also its mass or quantity of matter. Having these two facts, its density or amount of matter contained in a unit volume is found. The mean density of the earth is 5.52 times the density of water. But the density of its outer crust is only 2.71 that of water. This is found by weighing samples and noting their volume. By estimating the core of the earth's diameter a 4000 miles and knowing the density of the outer crust, and also earth's total mean density, the density of the core is found to be 10 or 12 times that of water.

waged by experts and attorneys that saw record crowds attend the trial. Reed urged on the jury that the death of the young husband was due to an accidental discharge of the gun, and not in retaliation for a slap that her husband gave her when she called him a "bum bridge player."

An amusing incident cropped out after the jury accepted the case. The jurors started their deliberations and it was not long until they requested a deck of cards to play bridge. One of the members was a bridge player and it was his job to teach the others, so they could argue better, such is the way of life.

How Verdict Was Reached.

KANSAS CITY, Mar. 7.—Freed by a jury of a charge of having slain her wealthy husband in a quarrel over a bridge game, Mrs. Myrtle A. Bennett today began life anew. Permitted by Judge Ralph S. Lathrop to discuss the case, Leslie R. Choate, foreman, acting as spokesman for the jury related how the twelve arrived at their verdict.

"It was not that the defense proved her innocent, of murder," he said. "It was that 'e state did not prove her guilty beyond reasonable doubt. The fact that the defendant was a woman had nothing to do with it."

During the present week, while the youngest justice, Owen J. Roberts, has been confined to his home with a cold, Justice Holmes had listened to hours of argument, frequently punctuating remarks of attorneys with questions. He pronounced fully many opinions as any other member of the court.

In Splendid Health.
The justice is stooped, and sometimes suffers the pains of lumbago. But for the most part, his intimates say, he is in splendid health.

Justice Holmes not only is the oldest man to sit on the high court bench, but he has been on it longer than any other. Appointed by President Roosevelt, he has served 28 years and three months.

With the passing of the last civil war veterans in senate and house, Justice Holmes is the only high official in the Capitol who fought in the great conflict. Commissioned a first lieutenant, he was wounded and attained the rank of colonel.

Justice Holmes frequently differs with the majority of the court but he clings to his interpretation of the constitution. Only recently he was on the minority in a 5 to 4 decision, in which he championed the power of the states in taxation.

Committee Named For Study Of Oil Supply And Demand

Secretary Wilbur Appoints Committee At Request Of Oil Institute

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—At the request of the American Petroleum Institute, Secretary of the Interior Wilbur today appointed a voluntary committee to make a survey of the supply and demand factors in the petroleum industry for the six months period ending Sept. 30, 1931.

The committee is composed of E. B. Swanson, chief economist of the bureau of mines, chairman; John W. Frey, bureau of foreign and domestic commerce; Martin Van Couvering, petroleum engineer, Los Angeles; Alfred G. White, national industrial conference board, New York, and Howard Bennett, Western Refiners association.

Two similar reports were made last year and were used as a guide to the industry in production and supply matters, Wilbur said.

The problem of estimating the crude oil requirements of the country was approached by the former committees through an analysis of the prospective consumption of gasoline and a translation of the gasoline demand into the domestic crude oil needed to provide the necessary gasoline, he said.

Geneva Glee Club To Give Program For Dinner Club

Beaver Falls Members Will Be In Charge Of Evening's Entertainment

Another good program is assured for the next Consistory Dinner club party on Friday evening, March 20, at the Cathedral, when the entertainment of the evening will be furnished by the Geneva College Glee club.

Merle Ralsley, a member of the Beaver Falls council is chairman of the entertainment committee for that evening, and it was through his efforts that the College Glee club was secured. The program will undoubtedly be one of the finest heard here in some time. Quite a number from here heard the Glee club before.

The party that evening will be known as Beaver Falls night, and a large crowd of members and their friends from the Beaver Valley is expected to attend the party.

General Chairman W. J. Moffatt is well pleased with the arrangements for the evening, and predicts one of the largest crowds of the season at the party.

As the next Consistory reunion is scheduled for May 20, 21 and 22 interest in the dinner parties is expected to increase.

second time, was clad in a blue dress with a white collar. She appeared wan and haggard. She evidently had not recovered from yesterday's ordeal when Kirkland disclosed the most intimate details of his love for Arlene.

Questioned by prosecutor John Underwood, she told how Edward had given her the money to pay for Arlene's dress. Kirkland was with them when the purchase was made, she admitted, and he took the money from Elsie's purse and gave it to the merchant. Actually, it was Edward's money, Elsie insisted.

Edward testified that two days before last Thanksgiving his sister, Elsie, had requested the money for the dress and that he gave her $11 with which to buy it. His examination was subject to repeated defense objections.

Dr. Jones, who was graduated from the University of Indiana, said he had performed about 1,500 autopsies, but only one in a case similar to Arlene's. Under cross-examination he admitted he had conferred with Dr. James Burchman who performed the original post mortem.

MARITAL LOSS OF CITIZENSHIP ENDED

By passing the Cable bill recently congress ends the forfeiture of United States citizenship when an American woman marries a foreigner. Since September 22, 1922, American women have retained their national status unless their husbands were aliens ineligible for naturalization. The exception chiefly affected American wives of members of the Mongolian races. Now that disability is removed.

Moreover, the rights arising from nativity here, which a woman might have relinquished by marriage or by residence abroad, may now be reacquired without the formality of again establishing a five-year residence. This point was raised against William J. Bryan's daughter, Mrs. Owen, in the contest filed against her election as representative from Florida.

Leaders of the Woman's Party hail the achievement as the greatest triumph of equal rights since adoption of the Suffrage Amendment. They see in it the successful culmination of a twenty-year campaign. Certainly it marks a radical departure from what had been accepted international practice for centuries, when a woman always assumed the nationality of her husband. In accepting the conclusions of The Hague conference of 1930 on naturalization this country becomes the first in the world to accord full parity to the sexes on the score of civil rights apart from marital alliance.

While generally regarded as a victory for feminism the reform has implications that give new dignity to the abstract conception of American citizenship. Unless the possessor files formal renunciation, the right is now almost inalienable.

REFLECTS BETTER CONDITIONS

Among the various signs of improving economic conditions—and they grow more numerous with each day's news—is the fact that the motion picture theatre business has been increasing in the last few months. In a general way, it was never so hard hit by depression as the legitimate stage. People seemed willing and able to spend a quarter or fifty cents for movies when they couldn't afford a dollar or more for the theatre. Yet movie business did drop off somewhat.

In the 19 weeks ending February 7, there was an average increase of six per cent, according to a movie magazine. This increase is based on a comparison with the average for the 30 weeks preceding January 1 for this year. The upward trend in some weeks has reached as high as 22 per cent.

If attendance is better at movies, perhaps it means movies are better, as well as that business in general is improving. After a period of experiment and near-chaos, following the advent of the talkie, the producers seemed to find out what really could be done with the new medium and have been doing it better.

NEW AND BETTER HEROES

As counsel for the defense, Coach Robert Zuppke, of the University of Illinois, delivered a telling and a singularly clear-headed analysis of the status of collegiate athletics before the meeting of school superintendents in Detroit recently. Critics of the athletic system now in vogue throughout the colleges and universities of the nation have been so zealous recently in their indictments that they have in some cases distorted more or less inevitable defects into lurid evils, and Coach Zuppke's opinion serves as a timely reminder that the issue has two sides, and that the better side has been virtually forgotten in some quarters.

That everemphasis has developed here and there in athletic competition between colleges is obvious, but wise treatment of this condition does not demand the drastic remedies which some proponents have advocated. There remain innumerable healthful influences arising from clean-limbed contests among the youth of the nation and it is to these benefits that the eminent Illinois mentor directed attention. "At the beginning," he points out, "the students managed these activities themselves, but so unsuccessfully that the faculties of the majority of the institutions decided to take control." This fact should be borne in mind in any consideration of the evolution of collegiate athletic systems, for unless the starting point is recalled, progress cannot be assayed.

Mr. Zuppke's observation that "The half-back, the quarter-back, the basket ball star, and the hard-hitting baseball player became heroes of the boy world, and supplanted Diamond Dick, the James Brothers, and Nick Carter," is patently sound. Youngsters require their heroes, and a comparison of the type glorified today with that of yesterday's romantic giants leaves a substantial margin in favor of the present. "Our young men," concluded Mr. Zuppke, "learned to talk in terms of health, courage, clean bodies and wholesome diets. Provincialism has to considerable extent been destroyed by intercollegiate athletics. Students soon learned something of the inevitable alterations of life when they were forced to see their heroes in defeat as well as victory." This defense was well-spoken and to the point, and should not be lost sight of in controversial debate.

DONE TO DEATH BY A FILIBUSTER

Senator Thomas must be proud of his success in holding up three bills by a three-hour filibuster, interrupted only by the gavel of the vice president when the clock struck twelve. He allowed the Veterans Hospital bill to pass, but the Immigration Restriction, International Copyright and Maternity bills fell by the wayside. And this was because the senate leaders would not agree to the Nye resolution for an investigation of the oil industry. All three measures would probably have been passed but for his obstinate occupancy of the floor. Yet the senate continues to allow by its antiquated rules one man to block legislation.

It is an old story. There is nothing to be gained by dwelling upon it now. Two of the bills thus chloroformed with words will doubtless come before the new congress. But the Vestal Copyright bill in its present form is now completely dead. The United States had only until the first of August to assent to the International Copyright Convention and give its authors, artists and designers the same degree of protection that those of other countries enjoy. They will not now obtain it automatically in every part of the world; they will have to make special applications outside of the United States. Nor within it will they have the security the bill would have given them.

Men who act serious all the time are considered funny.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:57. Sun rises tomorrow 6:25.

When a valued subscriber writes with enthusiasm that he has read this old palladium of liberty every day for 30 years and regards it as truly representative of the best American Journalism we know one thing, viz., that, by some strange chance, we have never spelled his name wrong in the society columns or anywhere.

Clothes make the man, unless they happen to be women's clothes, and then they usually break him.

Social Accomplishments—When a woman is so wealthy that she can go into Tiffany's and buy her jewelry by the pound.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A ducky went to consult the local doctor. As he was leaving, the doctor remarked:

"You've forgotten something."
"No!" replied the ducky.
"Yes, you have," said the doctor. "My fee for the advice I have given you is four dollars."

"Yes," answered the ducky, "but I ain't going to take your advice."

Auto-Suggestion—Every motorist should have two cars. One for pleasure and one for the mortgages.

Mr. Edison says he is really twice as old as he is because he has done two days' work every day of his life and, while Mr. Edison may be an exception to the rule, personally we have never known a man who talked like that all the time that didn't quit pretty early in the afternoon and take pretty frequent vacations.

OUTSIDE THE HOSPITAL

Matron (to sweet young would-be visitor): "And are you a relative of Captain Jones?"

S. Y. V.: "I am his sister."

Matron: "I am delighted to meet you. I am his mother."—Birmingham (England) Weekly Post.

Middle age is that period in life when you may catch a friend's cold by kissing her but aren't nearly so likely to do so formerly.

Six thousand bank failures in ten years, and a civilization unable to prevent that has the nerve to tackle the liquor problem!

TIME

Father: "I can't have you standing in the porch with that young man of yours."
Daughter: "But I only stayed for a second."

Father: "Nonsense! I distinctly heard the third, fourth and fifth."—Ideas, London.

Our memory goes back to the time when the can opener was a mere accessory to household equipment.

Probably the lie told most frequently in this neighborhood is as follows: "I don't care what she says."

RUSSIAN PHILOSOPHY
You may say what you like about the Russians, but you can't get over their proverbs. Here's one.

"Beware of a goat in front, a horse behind, and a woman all round."

Housewives should never buy more than enough parsnips for two meals at any one time. Then there'll only be half of them to throw away, whereas, if she bought enough for three meals, there would be two-thirds.

ACE OF CADS—The husband who talks in his wife's sleep.

Wonders of Nature—Modern mothers are finding it easier to make the children take castor oil by putting it in their gin.

SOMETHING NEW IN BUNGALOWS
A young couple who had just married received many presents after establishing their home in a suburb. One morning they received two theatre tickets, with a note which read "Guess who sent these?"

On the appointed evening they went to the theatre, returning very late. To their astonishment everything of any value in the house had been carried away.

On a table in the dining room they found this note: "Now you know."

A war isn't over until the patriots who fattened on it are dry-cleaned by the reaction and sent back to work.

TWO TOO MANY
"An' so I sez to that there Englishman, I sez, 'Just who do you think you are?' An' quick as a flash he answered back and sez, 'Sir, you are speaking to the third Earl of Hampshire and the son of the Duke of Northumberland and Earl of Surrey.'"

"Right then I sees the fig's up. I'm a game guy but darned if I was going to take on all three of 'em."

The official report, saying that Tampa has fewer crimes than any other city, evidently overlooks its two-for-a-nickel cigars.

Another reason why marriages fail is because a woman who is fixed for life doesn't see any reason to keep on being mushy.

GIVING ADVICE
Advice as it always gives a temporary appearance of superiority, can never be very grateful, even when it is most necessary or most judicious; but, for the same reason every one is eager to instruct his neighbors.

A Hungarian has developed enough concentration to play 105 games of chess simultaneously. He ought to make a good waiter at a business men's lunch.

WATCH YOUR STEP
If you were busy being right, You'd find yourself too busy quite. To criticize your neighbor's long because he's busy doing wrong.

A SNOW-WHITE "BOB"
We know a woman 72 years old who has just had her snow-white hair bobbed.

Archaeologists have found three ancient skeletons with the jaws open to a width of four inches, so the club sandwich probably isn't new.

Smart Man (boarding car): "Well Noah, is the ark full?"
Conductor: "Nope. Only one jack-ass so far. Come on in."

HER DECISION
"I hear you are not going to marry Mr. Newcomer after all. Why is that?"

"Oh, father thinks his position isn't good enough and mother thinks he is 'oo old for me. My aunts think he is too good looking to make a satisfactory husband, my Uncle Jim says he has heard rumors about him. My cousins tell me he is a flirt, and I—"

"Yes, and you—what do you think about it all?"

"Oh, I think I ought to wait until he asks me."

The benefit of wealth is largely imaginary. It merely enables you to pay $180 for beads like those at the 10-cent store.

Why Own an Auto?
Why Work So Hard?
Why Marry?

By MARSHALL MASLIN

You can take a Blue Pencil and make marks on a piece of paper.

Why should you own the house you live in? You could use that money for investments. . . . The house will "depreciate" and you'll never get your money out of it.

You'll always be paying out money for insurance, for repairs, for taxes. . . . It's cheaper to pay rent. . . . Then you'll not be tied down!

Why own an automobile? It will wear out and the cost of owning one is something terrible per mile. And you'll always be buying oil and gasoline and paying out money to the garage man. . . . Why should you own an automobile, anyway, when there's always some friends who'll take you places and be glad to do so, and if you need an automobile in an emergency you can always rent one.

Why work so hard? Why work at all? The years creep along, youth leaves you, and where are you? You will not have seen anything of youth anywhere or done anything. . . . You went to work in the morning and came home at night and had a few days of vacation each year. You can figure it out with pencil and paper that you've had very little fun.

Why marry and have a family? Bachelors have a better time. They have more money, more freedom. Families go to pieces, husbands and wives get bored or they quarrel. . . . Children are a constant expense, and a worry, too, and often a disappointment. Finally they go away and leave you. . . . What's the use of getting married? Why not remain single and be an uncle or an aunt to other people's children?

Why live life's mystery, an illusion, a tragedy? . . . You get old, you lose your strength. . . . It's just a faint glimmer in the darkness. . . . Or, as a Broadway wise-cracker probably has put it, a very thin slice of boloney between crusts of black bread. Life goes on and you are forgotten, and the earth is getting colder every day and the universe is running down.

With the Blue Pencil of Pessimism you can figure it all out. In a mood of bitterness and defeat, you can convince yourself that white is black that life is death. But if you do you will be making a terrible mistake. You'll be cheating at solitaire, you'll be denying the best part of yourself, you'll be blue-penciling the sweetest and most marvellous passages in the short story of life—and you'll have nothing left.

The thought that Cermak may "rally enough of the votes which went to the defeated Republicans to win the election" is voiced by the FLINT JOURNAL, while a similar position is taken by the SEATTLE DAILY TIMES, and the HARTFORD TIMES contends that "a Democratic victory should be the goal for all decent citizens." The PORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM holds that Cermak, who "heads the group of county and city officials working without Big Bill's approval for the elimination of overlapping activities by city and county governments, has a better chance than any Democrat who has opposed the Thompson regime in recent years." The ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH argues that "there's nothing invincible about Thompson's city hall machine and all reports of the Democratic candidate are favorable."

That paper adds: "Whether he has the fitting qualities and gifts of leadership the situation demands we are unable to say."

Conceding that "it is Chicago's business whom it wants for mayor," the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL observes that "some of the things that happen in that city are amazing to the rest of the country," and asks: "Will it be possible for an outsider to win in the efforts of decency in Chicago, and if so, how much will be the impetus given to gangs and ganglands elsewhere?" That paper sees a "challenge to true government throughout the country" from this source.

Taking a different attitude toward the results, the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL asserts that "the contest between Lyle and Thompson was regarded as a sham battle, so far as the political professions of Lyle are concerned"; that "the Republican candidate with a good record as Albert, a member of the city council, where he has consistently fought against graft, crime and corruption," and that "it appears that about 85 per cent of the citizenry of the second city in the country favor the Thompson-Lyle type of government."

The Capital concludes: "Cermak is a Democrat in a Republican county who has held a lucrative county office for a time of which the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. He has a first-class political machine. He would be a machine mayor, but probably less unscrupulous than Thompson."

"The attempt of Lyle and his backers to stampee all opponents of Thompsonism into going along with them, by threatening those who would not with the blame should Thompson win at the primary," according to the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, "was a bold piece of copy-turvy reasoning. For notoriously it was their own conspicuous act of bad faith and bad judgment which made impossible a united stand against Thompson's army of city pay-rollers and their allies. The result of the primary leaves the issue of the April election precisely where it was before Judge Lyle made his untimely leap into the arena. That issue is the defeat of Thompson and the overthrow of Thompsonism. It must be pressed to the right conclusion for the sake of the good name of the city and in order that honest and efficient administration of municipal affairs may be applied to Chicago's great and manifold needs. Thompson has been nominated by a relatively small minority of the voters of his party."

Governing Cost Of City Mounts Figures Show

Per Capita Cost Of Operating City Up Nine Per Cent During 1929

INCREASES HUNDRED PER CENT IN DECADE

Property Taxes Provide Three-Fourths Of Total Revenue Receipts

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 7.—The per capita cost of operating and maintaining the general government departments of the City of New Castle during 1929 was slightly more than nine per cent higher than for the previous year and 174 per cent greater than the cost in 1917, according to a summary of the financial statistics of the city corporation for 1929 made public today by the United States department of commerce. The per capita figures for the year are based on an estimated population of 48,400.

The payments for operation and maintenance of the general departments of New Castle, Pennsylvania, amounted to $1,483,930, or $30.66 per capita. In 1928 the comparative per capita for operation and maintenance of general departments was $27.93, and for 1917 $11.11.

The interest on debt in 1929 amounted to $175,004, or outlays for permanent improvements, $624,359. The total payments, therefore, for operation and maintenance of general departments, for interest, and outlays, including schools, were $2,283,293. The totals include all payments for the year, whether made from current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

The total payments for the schools amounted to $1,430,414. Of this amount $526,182 represents payments for operation and maintenance; $115,212, interest on debt; and $388,370, outlays.

The total revenue, including schools, were $1,993,038, or $41.18 per capita. This was $34.104 more than the total payments of the year, exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements, but $290,255 less than the total payments including those for permanent improvements. The revenue receipts for the school district amounted to $1,101,641.

Property taxes represented 73.5 per cent of the total revenue for 1929, 68.2 per cent for 1928, and 75.2 per cent for 1917. The increase in the amount of property taxes collected was 186.2 per cent from 1917 to 1928, and 7 per cent from 1928 to 1929. The per capita property taxes were $30.26 in 1929, $28.51 in 1928, and $11.98 in 1917.

The total funded or fixed debt outstanding January 6, 1930 was $3,465,000. The net indebtedness (funded or fixed debt less sinking fund assets) was $3,372,058, or $69.67 per capita. Of the total net indebtedness $963,370 was for the city corporation and $2,408,688, for the schools. In 1928 the per capita net debt was $72.61, and in 1917, $18.25.

Assessed Valuations And Tax Levies
The assessed valuation of property in New Castle subject to ad valorem taxes for city corporation was $54,556,980. The levy for all purposes was $1.957,182, of which $654,683, or 33.5 per cent, was levied for the city corporation; $872,911, or 44.6 per cent, for the schools; and $429,588, or 21.9 per cent, for the county. The per capita tax levy for the city, school, and county was $14.64 in 1929, $36.30 in 1928, and $15.65 in 1917.

In Pennsylvania there is no levy of the general property tax for State purposes.

HOOPER HEIGHTS TABERNACLE, Christian and Missionary

Join Great Fellowship Of Faith

Men believe in God because their own nature demands it. Their faith is the radiant center of the Gospel and all creation becomes friendly. When God is known as personal, the deepest currents of love and gratitude flow out to Him and men acknowledge their sins. Faith fills the soul with a daily and everlasting hope, directing its course because back of it all there is the eternal purpose and will of God. Man is gripped with a profound conviction that he is in partnership with the Eternal. All life is thus ennobled and dignified by faith.

Everybody out to join the community of faith. It has wider boundaries than the organized churches. We have America and its discoveries and inventions because men had faith. But in the church we have the choicest experience of the fellowship of faith. Men should go to church to give their faith a chance. They should culture their soul, feed it at the communion table and joyfully make their great confession.

Faith is never satisfied until it issues in service. It starts endless revivals. It fosters reforms. It opens the bank windows of liberality. See out a church tomorrow and join the great Fellowship of Faith. Don't delay.

Charles B. Wingerd,
Central Presbyterian Church.

Medical Missionary Returns For One Year

DR. R. E. HOFFMAN AND FAMILY

The Presbyterian Church has one of its Mission stations in Meshed Persia. Meshed is one of the sacred cities of the Mohammedans. The Shrine of Imam Reza is located there. A very successful hospital services have been carried on in this city for some years past, with both a staff of medical missionaries and Evangelistic missionaries working out from the hospital as a center.

Dr. R. E. Hoffman is the Superintendent in charge, and the First Presbyterian church of this city has for the past 10 years had the honor of supporting this man.

Dr. Hoffman has just arrived in America, with his family for the Sabbath year of rest and study. He arrives in New Castle today and will speak in the church that has supported him tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock.

This introductory address begins a week of meetings in the church. This is to be a Missionary week for the people of the First Presbyterian Church. On Monday night the Hershey Missionary Society and the Patterson Circle will have a dinner in the church, when Dr. Hoffman will be the guest and the speaker. On Tuesday night, the officers of the church with their families will give a reception in honor of Dr. Hoffman and his family. There will be a dinner served again on this night in the church dining room. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings the members and the friends of the church are invited to attend meetings at which the Hoffman family will appear in native costume, and tell of their work in Persia.

On Friday evening at 8:30 the Doctors and Dentists of the church, with their doctor friends are invited to meet Dr. Hoffman and hear him talk in a professional way about the work being done in this mission country.

The First Church is exceedingly happy to welcome back home this faithful missionary, who has done much pioneer work in both Persia and Afghanistan. A report from the mission station for the past year shows that these doctors in charge performed 187 minor operations and 390 major operations.

KEEPING THE FAITH

OUR national heritage of liberty and justice is rooted in the religious traditions of our forebears. Our moral fibre is a religious inheritance from the men and women to whom America owes her foundation and preservation. Throughout our history, the church stands as a glorious, unchanging influence. Today, as always, our good citizens observe the Lord's Sabbath in church.

"Love Syndicate" Believed Broken, Two Under Arrest

Los Angeles Police Will Re-question High School Girls

TWO TRAFFICKERS PLACED IN JAIL

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, Calif., Mar. 7.—Hinting that their investigation of the "Love Syndicate" trafficking in young high school girls might involve numerous other persons besides the three now in custody, investigators today were to re-question four of the girls now held as witnesses.

Matthews said he would question Mrs. Fern Setril, 22 year old screen actress who last week brought a $601,000 damage suit against David Wark Griffith, alleging attack. The investigator said John P. Mills, wealthy broker arraigned on statutory charges and released yesterday on $5,000 bond, had admitted knowing the girl.

Mills was charged with having entertained Clarence Tauber, 16, at his hotel rooms.

Two Are Jailed. William H. Jobelmann, 36, former theater press agent and Olive Day, formerly known as Dorothy Clark, motion picture actress, were arraigned as operators of the "love market" in Hollywood at which wealthy male patrons "bought" school girls for a standard "fee" of $200. They were unable to furnish bail and were remanded to jail.

Besides Clarence Tauber, who is being detained as a witness investigator were holding Alice Blake, 16, Helen Livingston, 19, and Helen Scott, 15. The four girls, together with a score or more of other girls of tender years, were victims of the "love market," according to District Attorney Burton Fitts.

Seek Two Girls. A card index listing the girls with biographical comment as to their various tastes and dispositions is in the hands of authorities. Jobelmann and Miss Day are accused of operating the syndicate which, expensively done in modernistic decorations, and equipped with disappearing doors and dim lights, offered a visiting place for men and girls.

Prosecutor Fitts announced a quest for a girl known as Patsy Fox, who is said to have introduced Mills to Miss Setril. Margaret Shearer, former roommate of Miss Setril likewise is to be summoned, according to Fitts.

what's the use of trying to defend it?"

Such was the assertion made today by Olive Clark Day, common-law wife of William H. Jobelmann, 36, who with Jobelmann and John P. Mills, 40, were arraigned yesterday on charges of a statutory offense against Clarence Tauber, 16. Preliminary hearings for the trio was set for March 31.

In her purported confession, the woman bared details of the operation of Hollywood's so-called "girl bazaar" at which wealthy male patrons "arranged" to meet young girls for a standard "fee" of $200.

A dairy "cop" by Miss Day over a period of three years was said to have disclosed the names of many prominent men who had dealings with the "girl bazaar."

Score Of Girls. Miss Day asserted that a score of girls, between the ages of 15 and 19, were kept on the active list of the asserted mart, with a reserve list of approximately 100.

"These girls were either recruited from the streets or by answering house work advertisements," she said. "We never bothered to pick them up unless they were pretty and personable. We always made friends of them, and, after gaining their confidence, would present them to clients."

"A standard price of $200 was placed on each girl. Of this the girl would receive approximately ten per cent."

Miss Day stated that 46 men were among the active list of the patrons. She said one of these kept a standing order with her to deliver a new girl each week to him at a downtown hotel.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Missionary Society of the Jerusalem Lutheran church met all day Wednesday with Mrs. Roy E. Shaffer. Quitting was the work of the day and at noon, dinner was served to seven ladies. Mrs. F. P. Blair led the devotional period. The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. L. Jones the first Wednesday in April.

SOCIAL

Mrs. L. W. Greenlee entertained a number of ladies Thursday evening at a dollar social for the benefit of the Princeton Missionary Society. The ladies came dressed as children and each one was required to contribute a number for an impromptu program which proved to be very amusing. After the program each one told how she earned her dollar to contribute and this was very interesting.

Music was another feature of the evening's entertainment. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee. Altogether the evening was a success both socially and financially.

Bo Broadway

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Mar. 7.—According to the fashion committee of the New York Custom Cutters, Spring styles in men's clothes will reflect the return of optimism to the stock market.

"The motto for 1931" they declare, "will be 'Let us be gay.' No more sackcloth and ashes. Even in business wear, men's clothes will be much less somber."

"The festive new fabrics for Spring are going to proclaim the gospel of confidence. This Summer will see a return of plaids and checks."

Let's hope that the Custom Cutters are right. Let us also hope that the "return of checks" will be confined to clothes.

SPEAKING OF CLOTHES.

Every time a New York woman buys an article of wearing apparel she pays a bonus for the privilege of changing her mind.

Shoppers in the Big Town have developed the return habit on everything from Oriental rugs to sheet music; but it is particularly in bringing back of coats, suits and dresses that has frazzled the merchants' nerves.

BUSINESS AS US.

They tell of a charming young suburbanite out Westchester way who wore her new tweed suit into town twenty-four hours before she decided to return it to the Fifth Avenue store where she had an account.

"It's just that I am not happy in this suit," she said. "Yes, I've paid $75 for it, and you've altered it, and it fits; but I don't enjoy it the way I do most of my things."

"We'll take back the suit, madam," said the store manager, probably adding to himself: "Better a loss we can reckon in dollars and cents than the loss of that intangible thing—the store's good-will in the nebulous zone of this young woman's acquaintances."

OBSERVATION.

In an interview with Billie Burke, the other day, she was quoted as saying:

"No one really has what 'they want in life.' They certainly have not—and that goes whether Billie said it or didn't say it."

TO BE TRODDEN ON.

The largest hand-tufted rug ever woven in a single piece is in the process of completion for the main lobby of the new Waldorf-Astoria. The weaving requires ten months, with thirty artists devoting their entire time to the work. The hand tufting involves the trying by hand of 12,000,000 knots—the same process employed as has been followed in Persia and throughout the Orient for centuries.

The carpet is to be an adaptation of a remarkable Persian garden covering made in Kirman about 1640. Its dimensions will be seventy feet by fifty, comprising, part of the 75 miles of carpet being made for the entire hotel.

TRANSIENTS' PROGRESS.

While on the subject of hotels: It may be interesting to know that 27,000,000 persons registered at New York hostels last year. To be exact, 27,012,320 individuals used the 119,368 rooms available.

The figures were obtained in the course of a survey to be utilized as the basis of an education campaign to offset misleading information disseminated to out-of-town visitors by public porters, taxicab drivers and certain so-called hotel information guides.

Four million five hundred thousand cards have been distributed throughout the country to prospective travelers warning them against these agencies and advising them to insist upon being taken to the hotel of their original choice.

PATH OF GLORY.

Chicago's home product, Al Capone, has become not only a national, but an international character.

Requests for foreign publication rights of his biography, "Al Capone: The Biography of a Self-Made Man," have been pouring in to Iver Washburn, the publisher.

The book has been out in the United States, only a few months and already translations are being rushed for early publication in France and Spain, with negotiations under way for Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Holland.

All that remains now in the career of that eminently successful young man, is to have his case taken up in a serious manner, of course, by The World Court.

A Columbia University professor says that the brightest students are the poorest spellers. That confirms an old suspicion: the brightest are often the laziest.—The San Antonio Evening News.

INCOME TAX FACTS

NO. 30

Various penalties are imposed by the statute for failure to file a return and pay the tax on time, and for making a fraudulent return. Distinction is made between failure and "willful failure" to file a return. For failure to file a return on time, the penalty is 25 per cent of the amount of the tax, unless a return is later filed and it is satisfactorily shown to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that such failure was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect. If a taxpayer exercised ordinarily business care and prudence, and nevertheless was unable to file a return within the prescribed time, the delay is due to a "reasonable cause."

For willful failure to make a return the penalty is not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, and in addition 25 per cent of the amount of the tax. For willfully making a false or fraudulent return, the penalty is not more than $10,000, or imprisonment for not more than 5 years, or both, and in addition 50 per cent of the amount of the tax.

Little Demand For Women's Garments

Mayor's Relief Committee Has Big Supply On Hand At Carnegie Auditorium

Apparently there is little demand for women's coats, and dresses, quite a supply of these garments being available at the Carnegie Auditorium where they have been taken by the Mayor's Relief Committee.

There is an unusual demand for men's clothes, but women garments are well provided for. There are some real good articles of clothing among the lot at the Auditorium, and unless the garments are called for by warm weather, they will undoubtedly be sold to the rag man.

Women and girls needing clothing, of this description should make application for them through the local welfare agencies or at the auditorium.

Friday, The 13th Lucky
For Flyer

EDWYNA MCCONNELL

By Central Press

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Tex. Mar. 7.—Friday the thirteenth holds no terrors for Miss Edwyna McConnell, licensed pilot of Fort Worth and probably the youngest of the few women assistant airport managers in the United States.

"Jinx day? Not a bit of it," she avers. "It's my lucky day—and it's an anniversary. Friday, March 13, marks the start of the third year of my flying. I took my first lesson on March 13, 1929. And practically every trip I've ever made by air has started on a Friday, or on the 13th day of the month. Don't tell me they're unlucky."

"Just a Flunky"
Miss McConnell recently made a tour of airports of the southwest for "pointers" to be applied to the new municipal airport to be constructed here soon.

"We've just got a small field now, and I'm just a general 'flunky' she says, modestly. "Check planes in and out, sell tickets, keep books, do stenographic work, observe flying conditions and all kinds of chores."

Miss McConnell worked in the local government agricultural offices to earn money for flying lessons. She has nearly 200 hours to her credit in the air.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Storm wave of moderate intensity of force, expected to cross continent during week centering on 4, will be expected to cause a general increase in precipitation in Great Central valleys and Great Lakes areas; this precipitation increase will be in areas where subsoil moisture has been short for some months past and will be of great benefit during spring planting season. A storm wave of moderate intensity of force will be expected to cross continent in central storm path during week centering on 10. Following the storm centers of both 4 and 10, moderate cold waves will move a little farther south than usual, probably causing the coldest days of month and heaviest precipitation of first half of month. These two cold waves are expected to center on 7 and 13 but not to be of long duration.

During the average Spring, killing frosts move as far south as latitude 35 as late as April 1; this includes the northern part of cotton belt; near March 25 I will expect cold wave that will probably cause killing frosts a little farther south than usual for that period. March temperatures are expected to average below normal, too cool for best results, but no unusually severe or damaging temperatures will be expected. The proverbial equinoctial period, near March 21, will bring a rather severe storm wave and moderate to heavy precipitation to most of North America; precipitation during this period will probably not be sufficient in the northwest and on central Atlantic coast areas, as subsoils in these areas now need lots of moisture to put them in shape; more precipitation will be expected in eastern than in western month, but a material increase over the entire Great Central valleys is expected to occur during the month.

In many respects I will expect cropweather during March to be of greater importance than that of any other month in 1931 season. Principal spring rains are expected to occur during March over a large part of the best farming lands of the continent. Coming earlier than usual, this moisture will be as beneficial as it would a month or so later; this is especially true of northern fields that are still frozen during March. In areas where March precipitation is not sufficient, or where it cannot get down into the subsoil, dry heat later in season will soon take the moisture from the ground and do considerable damage. These expected conditions caused me to give the general advice to plant early this season; I do not believe, however, that stubble or poorly prepared ground should be used in order that early planting could be accomplished. Poorly prepared ground is a bad investment during a season when dry weather is to be expected.

The basement of the church had been beautifully decorated with red roses and presented a lovely appearance.

Wounded Bradford Oil Salesman Is Holding His Own

Walter Shaw, 23, Bradford Oil Salesman Shot By Bandit In St. Louis

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, Mar. 7.—Walter Shaw, 23-year old oil salesman of Bradford, Pa., who was shot twice when resisting a holdup yesterday "spent a good night" but his condition is still critical his nurse informed International News Service this morning.

Shaw was shot once in the abdomen and once in the left arm early yesterday morning when he grappled with a holdup man who accosted him as he and a young woman companion, Miss Dorothy Duddleston, 23, of East St. Louis started to enter Shaw's car in a parking lot here.

Meanwhile Alfred Surad, 35-year-old unemployed chauffeur who was captured in an alley near the parking lot when Miss Duddleston's screams and the pistol shots attracted the attention of a policeman, continues to deny that it was he who shot Shaw. Police declare however that Surad has admitted that a hat found near the scene of Shaw's struggle with the bandit was his.

Shaw told police that when a figure emerged out of the darkness and ordered "stick 'em up" that he thought that the man was "kidding" him and that he was being made the victim of a practical joke. Two shots fired into the ground soon convinced Shaw that the holdup was in earnest and he grappled with the holdup man who shot two bullets into his body, Shaw said.

Shaw's parents were reported enroute here from the East.

Girl Scout Week Is Ended Today

Local Girl Scouts May Start Correspondence With Scouts Of Foreign Countries

This is the last day of International Girl Scout Week, observed in Girl Scout organizations throughout 38 different countries. The latest issue of "The American Girl" (published by the national Scout executives) received by the local district, Miss Nance Pugh, is devoted almost entirely to the Girl Scout troops of foreign countries.

One of the photos in the magazine is that of Miss Josephine Schain, the new national director, who will come to New Castle in May to attend the regional convention. Miss Schain is pictured in Iraq, Asia with several Asian Girl Scouts.

The Girl Scout organization is non-sectarian and non-partisan and is therefore so widespread that it has become one of the most important movements of the world.

It is hoped that New Castle Girl

Scouts will start correspondence with Scouts of other countries of the world. This is fast becoming a very popular practice among Scouts in other American cities and is beneficial as well as interesting. It gives the writers an idea what foreign Scouts are interested in, what they do at their meetings, etc.

Miss Pugh, the city director, started corresponding to a Girl Scout in England, several years ago. They have written regularly and both have gotten a great deal out of the letters.

Chairman Of Public Service Commission Writes To Senator Earnest

HAS VALUABLE INFORMATION

Also Tells House He Will Gladly Cooperate In Inquiry

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 7.—W. D. B. Ainey, for 15 years chairman of the public service commission, in a letter to Senator William H. Earnest today volunteered to appear before the senate committee which is conducting an inquiry into the operation of that body.

In other letters to D. Glenn Moore, chairman of the house committee which is conducting a similar probe, which has been requested will be furnished in the near future and offered to "cooperate in a spirit of entire helpfulness."

The house committee earlier in the week requested the commission to furnish detailed data regarding its operation during the past five years and also the entire record of the Scranton-Spring Brook Water company case.

Can Furnish Data.
In his letter to Senator Earnest, Ainey mentioned his long service with the commission and suggested that in view of that fact he may be helpful in furnishing the senate committee with any information it may desire. The same is true, Ainey wrote, of the other members of the commission. The senate committee has full power to subpoena any witness who is a resident of Pennsylvania. Of the commission itself, so far, only one commissioner, James S. Benn, has appeared.

Furnishing the data requested by the house, Ainey wrote to Moore, requires a search of the records of 9000 cases which have been heard by the commission, but promised to supply the facts required as fast as they can be compiled.

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 7.—One of the best entertainments of a long time was presented last night in the Wurtemberg U. P. church by a program sponsored by the Young People's Society. A fairly large audience took advantage of this affair.

24. Benedict Arnold—The Battle Of Oriskany

AUGUST 5, 1777, GENERAL NICHOLAS HERKIMER, A DOUGHTY OLD GERMAN SOLDIER, LED A FORCE OF 800 AMERICANS UP THE MOHAWK VALLEY TO THE RESCUE OF FORT STANWIX. THE NEXT DAY ST. LEGER WAS WARNED OF HERKIMER'S APPROACH.

JOSEPH BRANT (TAVANDANEGEA), FAMOUS MOHAWK CHIEFTAIN, LED A LARGE BAND OF TORIES AND REDSKINS TO A SPOT CALLED ORISKANY, WHERE HE LAID A TRAP FOR HERKIMER. AS THE AMERICANS PASSED THEY WERE FIRED UPON FROM AMBUSH AND SURROUNDED BY YELLING INDIANS.

AFTER A FIERCE HAND-TO-HAND FIGHT THE ENEMY WAS BEATEN OFF, BUT HERKIMER'S FORCE HAD BEEN CUT UP SO BADLY THAT IT COULD PROCEED NO FURTHER. THE GALLANT ATTEMPT TO RELIEVE FORT STANWIX HAD FAILED.

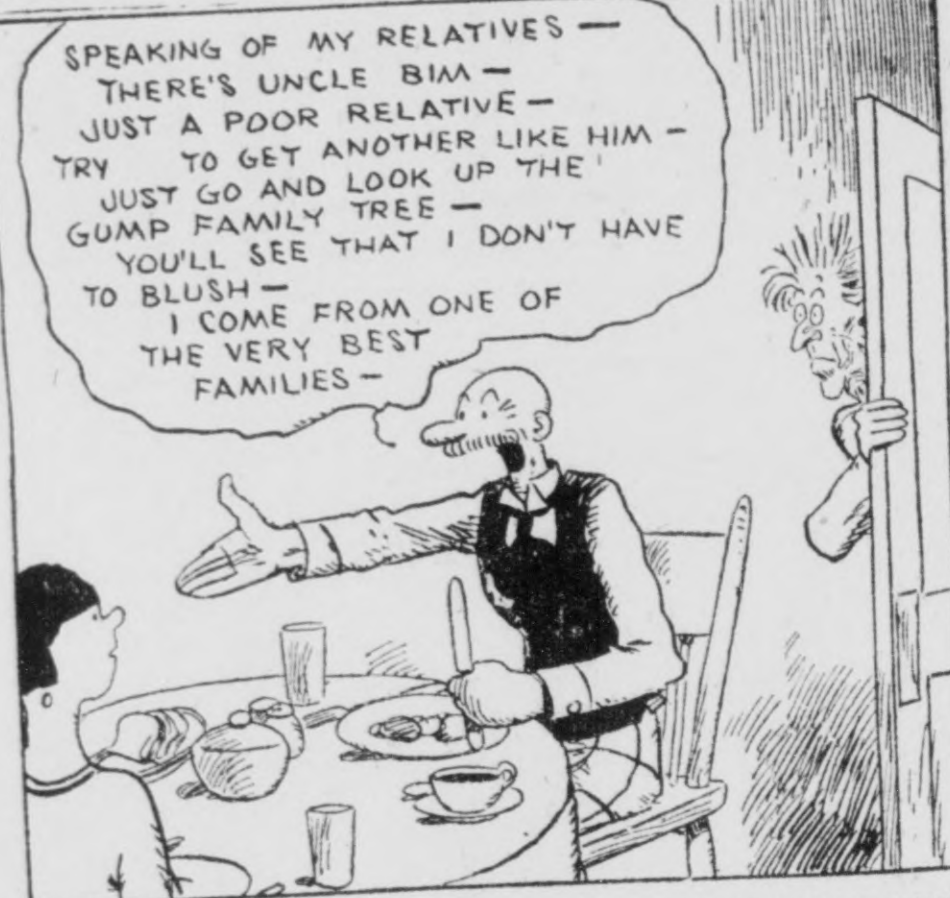

ALTHOUGH THE PATRIOTS WERE TAKEN BY SURPRISE, THERE WAS NO REPETITION OF BRADDOCK'S DEFEAT. HERKIMER FELL WITH A SEVERE WOUND, BUT HAD HIS MEN PROP HIM UP WITH HIS BACK TO A TREE AND, PUFFING AWAY AT HIS PIPE, CONTINUED TO DIRECT THE BATTLE.

New Castle Undeclared Passers Hope To Enter Semi-Final By Topping Monessen

Game Starts At 8:00 O'Clock—Expect Biggest Crowd Of Tournament So Far

Down in Dixie Base Ball Notes

NEW ORLEANS, La., Mar. 7.—If Eddie Morgan, Cleveland star first sacker, changes his mind about retiring from baseball and returns to the fold he may have a great battle on his hands attempting to win back the job that was his.

Low Fonseca, appeared recovered from the ill which hampered his play so in 1930, seems determined to mind that initial bag this year.

Fonseca—you remember—led the American league in hitting the year before. But last year an attack of scarlet fever and a shoulder dislocation threw him out of the running. Morgan stepped into his shoes and proved a star.

Now Fonseca is back and looks to be in fine shape. He has spent the winter in Florida getting in condition.

Low is a strong, powerfully muscled player and is a good fielder. He should have considerable good baseball left in his system and it is possible that, barring further mishaps, he may make Cleveland forget the Louisiana box manufacturer who had replaced him.

Willis Hudlin, Indian pitcher who suffered a sore arm due to too strenuous pitching during the 1930 spring training season, is taking things easier this year.

Young Joe Vosmik, discovered on the Cleveland sandlots some years ago and now a Tribesman after minor league seasoning, looks as a slinger with potentialities. In practice sessions here Vosmik has hammered out a batch of long drives, some sailing over the fence.

Bill Hunnefeld, ex-White Sox veteran, is showing a brand of form that may win him the shortstop berth, also sought by Carl Lind and Jonah Goldman.

Duquesne Tops Thiel Passers

Duquesne Proves Too Good For Coraopolis Passers In Tourney Tilt

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 7.—Duquesne university's home basketball schedule was at a successful close today, the brilliant passing attack of the Dukes giving them a decisive victory over Thiel college here last night by the score of 46-23. Pushing the play during the first half the visitors managed to emerge at the end of the first half only four points in arrears. The second half, with three Duke passers playing their last game before local crowds, saw an exhibition of dazzling passing that resulted in a complete routing of the Lutherans.

Want To Book Floor Contests

The fast Home Street Stars would like to book games with the leading junior teams of the city or county. Games are wanted with the Polish Falcons, the Safety Five, Alibi Reserves or any other fast teams. Games can be scheduled by calling 6088-J and asking for Gairdo.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

All aboard for Pittsburgh, New Castle vs Monessen at Pitt stadium.

Emmett Rocco the Ellwood City heavyweight who trains in Youngstown will rest Sunday. He will visit his parents at Ellwood City. Rocco rarely trains on Sunday and the only time he fractures his rule is when Sunday precedes a battle.

This Joe Sekyra knows his stuff. He has fought 'em all.

One of his foes in a 10 round bout was the present "champion" Max Schmeling. He also fought Willie Stribling, Tommy Loughran, Leo Lomski, Kayo Christner, James J. Braddock, Tom Heeney and went through the battles without any serious happening. He knows his stuff.

Charlie Retzlaff made short work of Tom Heney last night at Detroit.

It now develops that the Carnera-Maloney bout was a financial poke on the chin for Frank Bruen. Reports say that Bruen dropped about $36,000 on the bout. The battle between Johnny Risko and Mickey Walker was also a failure.

Sam Cohen who meets K. O. Kitts here March 16, is well known in Sharon.

With the house sold Jackie Rodgers has been taken from the Pittsburgh fistic bill Monday night. He has been injured in training, according to reports. Jackie was to have milled a third time with Johnny Datto. The substitution of a fighter will not help, even though a better boy is secured.

Regis Lehny of Pittsburgh, considered by Bill McKeehle the best of the Braves rookie hurlers, will start against the New York Yankees at St. Petersburg today. Frank Frankhouse will relieve the youngster after he has gone five or six innings.

Gilbert Hall beat Phil Neer, 6-3, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1 at the Palm Beach nets.

The decision handed Carnera over Maloney didn't meet unanimous favor.

A decision never does. One fan sees one fellow and another fan sees another. Many of them have their own scoring system. We have seen decisions here which the fans didn't like and seen decisions they did like which according to some fans were away off. It will always be thus.

B. F. Kraffert won the Class A golf trophy at Pinehurst.

Homer Gray is a forlorn colored lad of this city. He weighs 170 pounds. Homer has tried to break into the game and there isn't a chap of his weight around here. Dygert and Smith have tried to get him matched and it looks as though a call will be sent out of town to get him a foe for next show.

Wrestling is taking a firm grip on the fangs of the nation.

A week ago Henry MacNichols of the Y staged a couple of amateur bouts. He reports that the Y gymnasium was packed like sardines. Madison Square garden is drawing big crowds. Although professional wrestling is allowed in Philadelphia it is not allowed in western Pennsylvania.

Doctors Abandon All Hope For Life Of Former Big League President

(International News Service) ST. LOUIS, Mo., Mar. 7.—Physicians attending Ban Johnson, former president of the American League, today announced that they had abandoned all hope for the recovery of the baseball veteran. At St. John's hospital Johnson was reported to be growing steadily weaker throughout the night. He has been seriously ill here for several weeks with diabetes and a general run down condition. A blood transfusion was resorted to recently. Dr. Robert Hyland said it would be only a matter of hours before death would end Johnson's career.

Duquesne Wallops Coraopolis, 41-10

Duquesne high, Section VII winners proved too good for a small Coraopolis high, title holders of Section IX in a first round battle of the W. P. I. A. L. tournament on Friday night on the Pitt floor. The final score favored the Steelers 41-10.

The Duquesne quintet secured a commanding lead at the start of the tournament game and was never in doubt of victory. Coach Ray Henry of Duquesne sent in a number of subs but the score went up just the same. Servick and Zeleznik were the star performers for the Duquesne team with Hendel the best for the losers.

Tonight the second round gets underway with Monessen meeting New Castle high.

Drive a Twin-Ignition NASH

—It's a new experience!

ONE of the chief reasons for the flashing acceleration and smooth speed and power of Nash Eight-80 and Eight-90 models is aircraft-type Twin-Ignition. In each cylinder, two spark plugs placed opposite each other, fire at precisely the same instant. The highly compressed gas ignites at two points. It is burned more quickly, efficiently. The result:—A more powerful explosion—instant responsiveness—notable gasoline economy. The moment you step on the accelerator, you will realize the important difference Twin-Ignition makes. Let's go for a ride together—soon.

Hart To Remain At Golf Course

Numerous Changes In Tees Have Been Announced
By Officials

BALL STARTING RACK INSTALLED

There will be no change in the personnel of the municipal golf course according to announcement today which means that Walter (Bub) Hart will remain as business manager, John Reed, greenskeeper and Mose Mancini as caddy-master.

Employees have already commenced putting the course in shape and when the golfers start play they will find several changes as follows:

To speed up play, the former No. 7 tee becomes the new No. 1; the former No. 6 becomes the new No. 2 and the former No. 1 becomes No. 3; old No. 2 becomes No. 4; old No. 3 becomes No. 5; old No. 4 becomes No. 6 and the old No. 5 becomes No. 7. Numbers 8 and 9 remain as they were.

In addition to the ditches which were tiled and filled last fall after the season closed, tile is now being laid in the ditch across the former Numbers 7 and 8 fairways so that when the season opens there will be no open ditches on the course.

The barn has been removed from the rear of the office and converted into a clubhouse for the caddies.

The drinking fountain in the grounds on the first nine has been moved between No. 7 and 12 tees and a new fountain installed at No. 10 tee.

A ball starting rack has been installed at the tenth tee and this will aid the players to keep in proper order and also make it possible to start players at both No. 1 and No. 10 on busy days.

The rates of play have been cut. Individual season tickets will cost $15.00 and the locker rental for the season will cost $2.00.

SPYING ON SPORTS

By WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor

"Ring Racketeers are all wet thinking they get away with rough stuff and phoneying because the fight game is in solid in so many important spots. Say, they can lose their meal ticket overnight."

"Boxing can be outlawed in a jiffy. Back of the laws that created boxing commissions are the laws that made boxing illegal in almost every state. The racketeers should wake up before it's too late."

This is not the opinion of a politician-reformer, but that of one of the best liked, best informed shrewdest, most capable men in the game—old Charley Harvey, at 65, still an important figure in the sport.

Charley knows whereof he speaks. He knew the game in the days when boxers had to flee like thieves before the law and he has seen the gradual changes that have brought the sport to its present status.

Harvey fears that unless the gangster element is curbed or voluntarily abandons its machinations the game will sink back to the level of the old days of rowdiness when a ring man was looked upon as a suspicious character by the solid citizenry.

Boxers, promoters and managers do not seem to realize their great privileges," he says. "They do not seem to understand what a struggle it was to bring the game to a plane of respect and importance. The existence of current great public interest in their sport seems to teach them nothing about what the hard efforts of honest men did for the ring."

Old Charley, still manager of Tom Heeney, the rugged New Zealander, plies his trade under tremendous difficulties. Not quite two years ago he suffered a broken back in an auto accident. Apparently, he could not live. But he did and does. An iron brace supports his battered body. He moves about today with only the support of a cane.

He is as spry and as interesting as ever after having served in the boxing business for more than a half century. Charley began his career as a manager and fight promoter when he was only 16.

Harvey doesn't believe the old-timers had it on modern ring men. He is one of the very few oldsters in the game who hold that opinion.

"You really cannot compare the boxer of today and the prize fighter of long ago," he says. "Conditions were different. The old timers fought long epic battles because there was no law regulating the length of rounds."

"The best fight I ever saw was the Jack Dempsey-Luis Firpo massacre. There was more action in two rounds of that scrap than in 40 rounds of the old-time bouts. And Dempsey and Firpo fought just a few years ago."

"No age holds a copyright on courage, stamina, strength and skill."

Two Bradley Derby Entries May Revenge Blue Larkspur

Col. E. R. Bradley

Who hopes for a third victory in the coming Kentucky Derby

"Bubbling Over" Bradley's winner in 1926

"Behave Yourself, 1921 Winner"

Bradley pinned a lot of hopes on this horse with a beautiful name. Blue Larkspur was the standout of his field. He had made a great record as a two-year-old and Bradley thought as Derby day of 1929 neared that his dream was near realization. That dream was to have raced three Derby winners.

Rain made a mess of the Churchill Downs track for Derby day and it made a mess out of the race for Blue Larkspur and Colonel E. R. Bradley. Clyde Van Dusen threaded the mud to win with Naispur second and Ponchio coming in third.

Blue Larkspur had lost his only Derby chance. But not Bradley. He enters two colts in each Kentucky classic and he's back with two this year, hoping that either Barometer or Bar Hunter shows a clean pair of heels to Equipse. Twenty grand and other favored entries.

If either then Blue Larkspur can end his days in peace. He will have been amply revenged.

Bessemer Defeats Shenango Hi 17-14

Shenango Girls Nose Bessemer; Bessemer Boys Tied In Class B Race

One of the best games of the season was witnessed by a big crowd on Friday night on the Bessemer high floor when the Bessemer quintet defeated the Shenango five 17-14. The victory for Bessemer gives the Cement City boys a tie for first place with East Brook in the Class B Lawrence County basketball league.

In the preliminary contest the Bessemer girls took one on the chin when the East New Castle maidens defeated them by an 18-17 count. The boys game was fast and close throughout. The first period saw the Shenango passers on top 3-2. In the second quarter the Bessemer passers managed to play a better brand of ball than in the initial quarter to leave the floor with a 9-3 lead.

Throughout the third and fourth quarters the Shenango quintet outplayed the Bessemer lads but the 6 point lead at the half beat them. For Bessemer the playing of Puro-maki and Standish was outstanding while Collins and Craig were the best performers for the strong Shenango team.

In the girls game the playing of Hannah who caged the sphere through the nets eight times featured for the Shenango maidens while Troop and Macklin proved the best for the Bessemer girls. Through an unusual coincidence the Bessemer and East Brook boys who are tied in the Class league are to play in the New Wilmington tournament on Monday night. They will oppose each other.

The news that a nebula has been discovered speeding through space at 11,000 miles a second must make Capt. Campbell feel pretty small. The Cincinnati Times-Star.

Bradley's horse was a beautiful name. Blue Larkspur was the standout of his field. He had made a great record as a two-year-old and Bradley thought as Derby day of 1929 neared that his dream was near realization. That dream was to have raced three Derby winners.

Behave Yourself in 1921 and Bubbling Over in 1926, Bradley Derby winners, and now—Blue Larkspur in 1929. But it wasn't to be.

Rain made a mess of the Churchill Downs track for Derby day and it made a mess out of the race for Blue Larkspur and Colonel E. R. Bradley. Clyde Van Dusen threaded the mud to win with Naispur second and Ponchio coming in third.

Blue Larkspur had lost his only Derby chance. But not Bradley. He enters two colts in each Kentucky classic and he's back with two this year, hoping that either Barometer or Bar Hunter shows a clean pair of heels to Equipse. Twenty grand and other favored entries.

If either then Blue Larkspur can end his days in peace. He will have been amply revenged.

Fourth Child Is Born To Japanese Empress

Empress Of Japan Gives Birth To Her Fourth Daughter

Great Rejoicing Throughout Land — Disappointed Baby Is Not Son

TOKIO, Mar. 7.—A daughter, fourth child of the Japanese reigning house, was born today to the empress of Japan.

Although the entire country had hoped and prayed for an heir apparent, the broadcasting of the happy event gave occasion for nationwide rejoicing. Thousands of the Mikado's subjects flocked to the royal palace immediately after the announcement of the princess' birth, to kneel and bow in reverence before its gates and pray for the well-being of mother and child.

Palace information stated that the empress and her fourth daughter were in excellent health and resting quietly. Emperor Hirohito, the 124th head of the world's oldest imperial house, visited his new daughter in the imperial nursery and thereafter also visited the empress.

Later, relatives of the imperial child were allowed to enter the nursery and see the princess.

Three Are Living. Three of the four children born to the royal couple are living. They are Princess Shigeko, born Dec. 6, 1925; Princess Taka, born September 30, 1929, and the princess born today, as yet without a name. The other child, Princess Takichiko Hira, born Sept. 10, 1927, died the following March.

Under the Japanese imperial house law of 1889, the succession to the throne is definitely and irrevocably fixed upon male descendants. It provides that in case of failure of the ruling Mikado to have male progeny, the throne shall devolve upon the nearest prince and his descendants.

The present heir presumptive is Prince Yasuhito Chichibu, brother of the emperor. He is 28 years old and in September of 1928 married Miss Setsu Matsudaira, daughter of the former ambassador to the United States, now in London.

Emperor Hirohito, who will be 30 years old, was married to Princess Nagako Uni in 1924. She was 28 years old yesterday.

Legislators Asked To Vote Abolishing Service Commission

Allegheny Valley Citizenry Ask Legislators To Vote To Out Commission

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 7.—Signifying the attitude of Allegheny valley citizenry, state senators and assemblymen representing that district were to be notified today to act toward the abolition of the public service commission as now constituted and to vote for legislation establishing a fair rate board.

Under sponsorship of the Allegheny Improvement association delegations from all valley towns between Pittsburgh and Freeport attended a grievance meeting held in the Oakmont high school last night and voted to send communications to the legislators.

Coincident with the resolution to favor bills fathered by Assemblyman Louis Hagmaier of Aspinwall calling for the appointment of the fair rate board by the governor, announcement was made that a delegation will appear before the house investigating committee at Harrisburg March 11 and 12.

Presiding over the meeting was Clarence V. Tiers, president of the valley association, who explained that Oakmont had been compelled to spend $15,000 to protest increased water rates of the Suburban Water company and that he had been advised another gate contest loomed.

Friend of mine has a smile on today that goes back to his ears. In an expansive mood, wants to go around shaking hands and kissing babies. Uncle Sam sent him his adjusted compensation loan and he and the little woman are preparing to use the money.

Pleasant thoughts for gray mornings. Have you filed your income tax report yet? Uncle Sam and Uncle Andy would like to hear from you, and by the fifteenth.

Had an interesting time out at the Thaddeus Stevens school yesterday watching the youngsters go through a fire drill. In less than two minutes from the time the alarm sounded, they were all out in the yard.

There was no pre-arranged setup for the alarm. It was a fire drill, but you might have thought the youngsters had been expecting it all day. No disorder or confusion.

The gong rang. A little tike went down to the piano, doors opened a tramping of feet like a set of pistons, and the building was emptied.

Visit the school in your district. Take time enough to see what your school authorities are doing, what the teachers are doing, what the youngsters are accomplishing. And one request, if you do go.

Don't try to assay the educational work of today with a 1900 mind. The way you were taught has been changed. Let the teachers and principals explain to you what they are trying to put over and then see for yourself.

You'll be surprised and then delighted, for the modern method of instruction, different as they are from the way you were taught, are getting faster and better results.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

With the news from Kansas City in every home, the pastime of bridge now enters the realm of hazardous occupations. Lady out there shot her husband after he failed to make a four spade bid.

Seems as though he inked a couple of spades and when it got to her she whooped it to four and then left him on a limb. All he had was thirteen cards and she thought he was Houdini. He went down.

Wife then proceeds to double and redouble with a six shooter, with an additional fifty for fulfilling her contract. Finally caught up with the boy friend and shot him in the excitement. Excitement now becomes a vital organ for he died.

Went before the jury and told them it was an accident, and the jury apparently was composed of bridge players. They acquitted her, which seems to be a rather drastic lesson for husbands who bid spades and can't make them.

Work and Lenz will probably get out an amended edition of their book now, showing the necessity of steel vests in bridge games. And among the latest bridge prizes one finds neat little cannons good for one shot.
